Dr. Junius T. Lynch Becomes Surgeon, with Rank of Major.

MR. GOMPERS IN NORFOLK

Arranging for Federation of Labor—Likely to Have Union Label Exhibit.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] NORFOLK, VA., February 26.—General C. C. Vaughan, brigadier commander of the Virginia Infantry, today announced the following further appointments on his brigade staff: Surgeon and chief, with rank of major—Dr. Junius T. Lynch, of Norfolk. Dr. Lynch will accept. He has for some time been surgeon of the Norfolk Light Artillery Blues. Aide, with rank of first lieutenant—James V. Bickford, of Hampton. Lieutenant Bickford has for some time been adjutant of the Third Battalion. These finish up the brigade staff appointments that go to this part of the State.

Arranging for Meeting.

President Samuel Gompers and Secretary Frank Morrison, of the American Federation of Labor, were among the arrivals in Norfolk today. They were here for the purpose of making arrangements for the annual convention of the Federation in Norfolk next November, and to seek sufficient space for a large union label exposition exhibit to supplement the sociological and economic labor exhibit, such as was had in St. Louis.

They inspected the Armory Hall, and found it well adapted for the purpose of the Federation convention, and it is quite likely that the convention, which will be one of not less than two weeks' duration, will be held in the armory.

Messrs. Gompers and Morrison went into conference early in the day with Governor Elyson, of the exposition management, with the hope of securing space sufficient to warrant a union label exhibit, such as was called for under the resolution adopted by the Federation of Labor, in session at Minneapolis last November.

Just whether the exhibit can be made is yet uncertain. It will depend upon the final decision of the exposition management, which must be made at once.

Tried to Put Head in Stove.

Mrs. W. S. Diggs, whose husband is a Portsmouth police officer, was attacked in her home, corner of Green and Scott Streets, by a negro last night, and is today suffering much from shock. She was alone in her sitting room when a negro entered and seized her.

To stifle her cries the brute pushed a handkerchief in her mouth, and after a struggle, in which the negro tried to push her head into a stove, he jerked a gold watch from Mrs. Diggs's dress and left the house.

Police Officer Porter, who was nearby, heard a fall in the house and ran in, screaming, and made an investigation. He found Mrs. Diggs unconscious on the floor.

Dr. Wilkins was sent for and Police Officer Diggs, who was on duty in Park Street, was notified and soon arrived at the house. Mrs. Diggs recovered consciousness, but soon relapsed and does not seem to be able to give much of a description of her assailant.

PRESERVE RECORDS.

Board Plans to Buy Metallic Furniture for Clerk's Office.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] CHESTERFIELD COURTHOUSE, VA., February 26.—The Chesterfield supervisors held their February meeting yesterday, in spite of the snow and icy roads, some of them traveling twenty miles. A committee was appointed to look into the matter of furnishing the county clerk's office with metallic furniture, including roller shelves for the record books, and to report as to improvements needed in the building itself. The chairman of the board recently took a trip through a number of counties in the southwestern part of the State, and he does not like the fact that Chesterfield is not so up to date in its public buildings and economic arrangements as many counties of less ability.

A petition of Hon. W. W. Baker and others for a change in the county road at Hallsboro was presented and referred to voters. The county road force, which now has in employ twenty State convicts, will remove next week from the vicinity of Bon Air to Bermuda District for work on the Manchester and Petersburg Turnpike.

A communication from the Southern Railway Company in the interests of a State exhibit of timber and minerals at the Jamestown Exposition was referred to Hon. John D. Watkins, who is commissioned with the county's exhibit, for which the supervisors last year appropriated $1,000.

A small tract of timbered land, belonging to the estate of S. Isham M. and others, was sold today here at public auction, at about $25 per acre by George Mason, commissioner, of Petersburg.

ENJOYABLE DANCE.

Young People of Twyman's Mills Have Delightful Evening of It.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] TWYMAN'S MILL, VA., February 26.—There was quite an enjoyable dance given by Miss Mattie Anderson Friday night. There was a large crowd present. About 12 o'clock refreshments were served, and all went home with smiles of enjoyment on their faces.

There was also a dance at Locust Dale Friday night. The music was furnished by the Madison String Band.

Mrs. Beadles, of Oak Park, is quite sick.

Miss Daisy Hill, of Locust Dale, who has been quite sick, is improving.

Dr. E. W. Toyman has been quite sick with the grippe, but is able to be out again.

The doctors of this county have been on the go for over six weeks waiting on the sick.

There is about five inches of snow on the ground that fell Saturday night and Sunday. The ground-hog day is proving up pretty well.

The large storehouse of Mr. Larkin, at Locust Dale, is nearing completion.

Misses Hannah and Beunice Lacy, who have been home for the holidays, returned to their respective schools yesterday.

TWO DIE IN FEW HOURS.

Mr. George H. Judkins and His Daughter-in-Law Pass Away.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] CHRISTIANBURG, VA., February 26.—Mr. George H. Judkins, an aged and respected citizen, died at the Judkins Hotel here this morning, after an illness of several months.

Mr. Judkins was about seventy-five years old, and had lived here all his life, and until recently assisted his son, Mr. W. C. Judkins, in running the hotel. He was for many years a justice of the town, and had the confidence and esteem of all who knew him. He leaves an only son, his wife having died several years ago. Preceding Mr. Judkins's death a few hours his daughter-in-law, Mrs. W. C. Judkins, died in the same hotel, after a lingering illness of a complication of diseases, aged about fifty years.

Mrs. Judkins was a Miss Jarnett before her marriage, and has a host of friends and relatives in Virginia. She was a life-long member of the Presbyterian Church, from which her interment took place this afternoon.

She leaves a husband, Mr. William C. Judkins, and an only daughter, Miss Isabel, a student at Sullins College, Bristol, to mourn her death.

GOVERNOR IN NORFOLK.

Spends Day Looking After Work On Virginia Building.

NORFOLK, VA., February 26.—Governor Claude A. Swanson, of Virginia, was a visitor to Norfolk today. He was busy day for the Governor, and he soon got down to work. He first called on President Tucker and other officers of the Jamestown Exposition, discussed exhibition matters in general, and then attended a meeting of the committee appointed by the last Methodist State Conference to arrange for a Methodist building and exhibit at the exposition. The Governor is a member of that committee. The committee was called to order about noon by the Young Men's Christian Association building.

Other things demanding the attention of the Governor, connected with the Virginia building and exhibit at the exposition. He was in conference for some time with Colonel W. W. Sadler, a member of the Virginia Exposition Commission.

Grand Jury Accomplishes Great Deal and Is Discharged.

BOYDTON, VA., February 26.—The Circuit Court of Mecklenburg, after a continuous session of eight days, adjourned today. The grand jury has completed its duty to the State. This has been one of the busiest terms any court ever held in the county, and, perhaps, more business was transacted. The jury reported to Judge Barksdale this morning that it had increased the amount of incomes $22,600.26. At present there were $95,476 given in, aggregating now $118,076.24, as the whole amount for Mecklenburg.

Judge Barksdale discharged the jury this morning, and in doing so complimented them for the faithful manner in

GENERAL GRANT SEES GROUNDS

Spends Day at Exposition Site Inspecting Tract Where Soldiers Will Encamp.

KNOW NUMBER OF TROOPS

This Is Essential That Sufficient Tentage and Provisions May Be Arranged for Beforehand.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] NORFOLK, VA., February 26.—To arrange for the army participation in the Jamestown Exposition and map out the plans for the encampment of the Federal troops, and to settle the question of sewerage and water supply for the army reservations, Major-General Frederick Grant, commanding the Department of the East, accompanied by his aide, Captain A. J. Bowley, arrived in Norfolk this morning from Washington.

They were met at the steamer by Mr. G. T. Shepherd, secretary of the exposition company, and Lieutenant P. W. Bagby, attached to the secretary's office. He immediately went to the office of President Tucker, and after a short conference with the president, the party was taken to the exposition grounds on a special car of the Norfolk and Portsmouth Traction Company. There General Grant inspected the tract of land set aside for the camp-grounds of the Federal troops, just outside the enclosure.

Every detail of the government military features of the exposition was thrashed out before he left to-night for the national capital, to start the machinery in motion to carry out the government's end of the military program.

Looks Situation Over.

The task before General Grant involves the consideration of many points that will have to be solved in order to make the military feature a success, and on this account a personal inspection of the grounds upon which the troops will encamp was necessary. His visit was in compliance with orders issued last Thursday by the War Department.

The general, who will be in command of the Federal troops during the exposition period, closely inspected the grounds assigned to the camp, the sewerage arrangements, the water supply, the accessibility of the grounds, and looked out for a location for a provisional depot and the advantages for the transportation of these provisions to the depot.

Before leaving for the exposition grounds General Grant said:

"I want to get all the information possible about the encampment of the Federal and foreign troops, and to complete the arrangements for this feature. It is my desire to make the army's participation in the exposition as much of a success as possible, and to co-operate with the navy to make the naval feature a great success also. If I can go over the entire ground to-night, it will take me about two days to thrash out the details and get ready to start work on the reservation set aside for the Federal troops."

Line on Special Days.

He will have to know how many Federal troops will encamp at the exposition, and how many foreign troops will attend, so that he can arrange for the proper tentage and the proper quantity of provisions.

Then he will have to get a line on the special days that will be celebrated at the exposition, so that the officers may know what part they are to take in these occasions and make their arrangements in advance.

It was not definitely known the number of Federal troops that will encamp at the exposition, and there has been very little information as to the number of the foreign troops; but this will be taken up by General Grant in a few days, and it is expected that he will soon be in a position to know just how many troops to provide for.

NATIONAL EXHIBITS.

Mr. Geddes Says He Will Forward Contribution Very Soon.

NORFOLK, VA., February 26.—Mr. W. M. Geddes, secretary to the national commissioner, to the Jamestown Exposition, was in Norfolk today to arrange for the installation of the government exhibits. Mr. Geddes said today that these exhibits are now ready for shipment, and he is anxious to get them to Norfolk as early as possible. With Mr. John C. Scholard, chief clerk of the War Department, who also arrived in Norfolk this morning, Mr. Geddes visited the exposition grounds and inspected the structures that are being built by the government.

The government buildings are rapidly nearing completion, and it is the opinion of Mr. Geddes that he will be able to forward here the government exhibits by March 15th.

which they had discharged their unpleasant task. He said it was a relief to discharge their duty, and awaken the public conscience to a sense of obligations to the State.

Your correspondent has been told by a prominent gentleman:

"Before leaving for the exposition grounds with public sentiment, that there is much opposition among many of the citizens to the present law in regard to incomes, which only exempts $600, and with the amount of exemption for tax on incomes raised to $1,200, or repealed, it is my desire to make the army's participation in the exposition as much of a success as possible, and to co-operate with the navy to make the naval feature a great success also. If I can go over the entire ground to-night, it will take me about two days to thrash out the details and get ready to start work on the reservation set aside for the Federal troops."

"OLD" PAIR OF PANTS.

Virginian of Eighteenth Century Killed Two Deer in Manchester.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] KEYHOLE, VA., February 26.—When in Calhoun Falls, S. C., recently I was shown a pair of pants made out of two deer skins, which may be on exhibition at the Jamestown Exposition. Mr. Thomas Burford was born in Keyhole, in the year 1717. When eighteen years of age he killed two deer where Manchester now stands, which was then a forest; dressed and tanned the skins, and had them made into a pair of pants by an Irish Tory, who was carried out by a trader in Richmond, paying an enormous price for the work. They were sewed together with silk and the threads are now in a perfect state of preservation, as are the pants. They are knee pants, with silver buckles. They are now in the possession of and owned by his grandson, Mr. D. Burford, of Calhoun Falls, S. C.

He speaks of going to the Jamestown Exposition and carrying the pants with him.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] BRISTOL, VA., February 26.—James E. Burroughs and Virgie Y. Price, who eloped to Washington City from Jump, Rockbridge county, Va., a few days ago, were married last night in Richmond, on account of the age of Miss Price, who is only sixteen, came to Bristol and was married at the Gretna Green by Rev. A. H. Burroughs, "Parson" Burroughs always finds a way.

Want New Trolley Line.

ONANCOCK, VA., February 26.—About 100 representative citizens assembled in the hall of the proposed exchange, Onley, yesterday afternoon, in response to a call for the organization of a company to build a trolley road in this section. Mr. T. W. Taylor was made chairman and Mr. Charles R. Watkins secretary.

Six committees were appointed, one each from Onancock, Onley, Tasley, Accomac, Locustville and Wachapreague, to solicit subscriptions to the capital stock, and to report at an adjourned meeting to be held March 12th.

Considerable interest was manifested, and number of subscriptions, one of $1,000 and several of $500 each, were made as soon as the committees were announced.

Post-Office Appointments.

CLIFFTON FORGE TO BE DRY TOWN

Temperance People Surprised by Magnitude of Their Own Victory.

ALSO CAPTURE COVINGTON

Anti-Saloon Forces Have Majority of 47—No Liquor After May 1st.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] CLIFFTON FORGE, VA., February 26.—The local option election held here today resulted in a victory for the temperance people by a majority of 80. In the three wards a total of 664 votes were polled. The First Ward gave a majority of 21 against the saloons; the Second Ward, 32; and the Third Ward, 27. The election passed off without any excitement. Both sides worked manfully to get out their full strength, and this was done, as the vote is more than double that polled in November, when a Congressman was elected. For the past few weeks the local option campaign has been the centre of attraction, and notwithstanding the determination of those engaged in the fight, there has been little or no hard feelings. The victory is a surprise to the temperance people, as they only expected to carry the city by fifty majority. The vote has been claiming the election, and did not intend until the vote had been counted. A local option election was also held in Covington, the county seat of Alleghany county, to-day, and the saloons were voted out by a majority of 47. This was the second election in Covington, as the one held a few months ago was set aside, owing to no election being held in one of the wards. After May 1st Alleghany county will be entirely without saloons. Since the adoption of the Mann bill whiskey has only been sold at Covington and this city.

CLERK DIES SUDDENLY.

Mr. J. E. Major Passes Away Most Unexpectedly.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] CHARLES CITY COURTHOUSE, VA., February 26.—Mr. John E. Major, clerk of the Circuit Court of this county, died suddenly at his home yesterday evening about 6 o'clock. It is supposed that death was due to heart-failure.

Mr. Major was sixty years old, and had been clerk of the court here for the last twelve years. He is survived by a wife and four sons—Mr. J. H. Major, deputy sheriff; R. S. Major, deputy clerk of the county; George Major, of Providence Forge, and Malcolm Major, of Washington, D. C.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

SELL FINE PROPERTY.

Several Lots in Heart of Roanoke Disposed Of at Public Auction.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] ROANOKE, VA., February 26.—The real estate of Catagnoli Brothers was sold at auction today for division. Seven lots in the heart of the city and a large storehouse were sold. The property as a whole brought $69,545. Louis Catagnoli purchased the store and a local syndicate the remainder.

Entitled to State Help.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] GALAX, VA., February 26.—Professor Harris Hart, of Roanoke, the examiner for this district, has been in Galax for the past few days, investigating the school. He says the school is entitled to the State high school funds applied for, and it will be forthcoming.

He also made some interesting addresses to the patrons and pupils while here.

The public entertainment given by one of the literary societies of the High School on the evening of the 23d was well attended and in every way a success.

Poor Show for The Dyspeptic

Poisoned Stomach, Clogged Brains, Wavering Ambition, Failure—Unless He Seizes His Opportunity.

There's no good reason for any man's remaining a dyspeptic—a burden to himself and family, when he should be a pillar of strength.

There's only one reason why he has been a dyspeptic and that is because he has overworked his stomach, so that it cannot secrete the juices and work the muscles necessary to digest the food.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do the work for you, and give you back your health and energy.

First, take an unflattering cathartic and get rid of this food.

Second, get a 50-cent package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets from any druggist, and take each meal and at bed time. The tablet will do the digesting while the stomach is regaining its strength. Before the box is gone, your stomach will be vastly relieved.

Not cured? Why? Because Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain the very elements which your stomach possessed when it was healthy—pepsin, diastase, golden seal and others. It was because your stomach kept losing its ability of these digestive ferments that you became dyspeptic.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do the work for you, and give you back your health and energy.

If you are uncertain, and without injury, they are not a medicine, but the working out of a scientific principle upon the food you eat.

Hundreds of sufferers in far worse condition than you have been positively cured of dyspepsia by these wonderful little tablets. Forty thousand physicians in the United States and Canada recommend them.
